'We want to bring some fun back to Haverhill'

NICK KOSTOV

ONE year ago, Gillian Bayford was saving the pennies so that her two young children could have the birthday parties they wanted at the local play barn.

Twelve months on, she has bought it.

Giving her first interview after winning the record-breaking £148 million EuroMillions with her husband Adrian last August, Gillian says she wanted to do things for their children, Aimee and Cameron, and bring some fun back to Haverhill.

Gillian, a former health care assistant at Addenbrooke's, plans to reopen the much missed Cheeky Chimps children's play barn in her home town.

She said: "Both the children wanted their party here last year – times were tight but we made a point of trying to budget for it and we managed to have the party they wanted."

"Both of them had half of their class here, they had a great time."

When the play barn went out of business in February, it left many parents who had bought season tickets disappointed.

So Gillian said she felt the time was right to splash the cash and provide a fairy tale ending to an amazing story.

"At the moment there's nothing for children from Haverhill and the surrounding villages, we wanted to give them somewhere

DISTRESS: Mr and Mrs Armstrong say they are being charged the "bedroom tax" for a dining room

Couple outraged at dining room charge

A DISABLED couple are furious after being charged the "spare bedroom tax" for what they say is their dining room.

Andy Armstrong, 47, and his wife Paula, 46, say they are being forced out of their family home on Queens Way, in Haverhill, by council blunders.

They say an official came to their house five weeks ago to measure their dining room and make a decision as to whether it should be counted as a second spare bedroom.

Despite not being notified that a decision had been taken, Paula said the council is now taking £89 out of her account every month to pay for the two spare bedrooms.

She added: "I was prepared to pay for one spare bedroom but not two because my husband and I sleep in separate bedrooms because of his chronic mental health issues.

"But I can't get over the fact they're charging me for a dining room - it's robbery."

When she complained, Paula said she was laughed at and told to pay up.

Mr and Mrs Armstrong live on £100 a week income support and since the changes to the benefits system came into force on April 1, they can no longer afford to stay in the property on Parkway estate.

They have managed so far by taking money from Andy's disability living allowance payments but Paula said this is not sustainable and, reluctantly, she has now put the couple on the bidding list.

She added: "It is causing us a lot of distress the thought of leaving our family home.

"My husband's disability has got worse since this whole thing began."

The controversial room is downstairs and Paula said the house was classed as a "two bedroom parlour house" when she first signed a tenancy agreement on it 12 years ago.

Adding to the sentimental value of the property, the Armstrongs last saw their son in his bedroom six years ago before he died in a motorcycle accident.

Andrew, who had just turned 18, died when the motocross bike he had bought just two days before crashed into a telegraph pole on a field footpath between the bypass and Ladygate Wood.

Mrs Armstrong did a lot of work with the police to raise awareness of the dangers to youngsters who had taken up off-road motorbiking - running a campaign to get them properly trained and equipped.

In recognition for her campaign, a memorial bench was unveiled for Andrew just across from the family home.

She said: "I buried my 18-year-old son here six years ago; this house is the last place I ever saw him."

Since April 1, people with one spare bedroom have seen their housing benefit cut by 14% of the rent they pay every week; people with two spare bedrooms have lost 25% of their housing benefit.

Thank you! Delight as Oliver gets his iPad

A YOUNG autistic boy was handed an iPad this week after generous people in the community donated mobile phones.

An appeal was launched to provide Oliver, 4, with a £400 iPad fitted with an app designed to help people with autism.

Mum Samantha, of Crispin Close, in Haverhill managed to collect the 185 phones needed for the iPad and said her son had taken to it really well.

She added: "He's loving it. He's taken to it a lot quicker than I expected him to."

Samantha said the iPad will help Oliver with his learning and communication but also aggression. She found Oliver often got frustrated and the iPad helps to calm him down.

The single mum was overwhelmed by the generosity shown after her appeal. One person even donated phones and left a wooden model train spelling out Oliver's name.

Samantha said: "The generosity has literally overwhelmed me. It restores your faith in the community."

Anger as medals stolen in burglary

THIEVES stole a British serviceman's treasured collection of medals when they burgled his house on Saturday night.

The medals were awarded to Shawn Winters, 40, of Wrattling Road, Haverhill, for years of exemplary service in Northern Ireland, Iraq and Afghanistan.

Shawn was one of the first British boots on the ground when troops were sent to Iraq in 2002.

He also worked with civilians in Afghanistan and completed six tours of Northern Ireland between 1991 and 2000.

Shawn was furious when he realised all seven of his military medals were gone, including one for 15 years of loyal service to the army.

He said: "I felt more anger than anything else – you just ask yourself why? Why would someone take something that means so much to someone else but is absolutely worthless to them?"

"These were my own medals that were presented to me and I want to pass them down to my children – the medals I was given – not some duplicates which the army said they could give me but which say 'duplicate' on them."

The medals have both Shawn's name and army number on them and would be difficult to sell in this country – he is worried the thief will realise this and just throw them away in a field.

He added: "I just want them back. I'd really like whoever took them just to slip them through my letter box in a blank envelope, or find some other way to get them back to me."

Shawn had been out to the Pheasant pub in Gestingthorpe on Saturday evening with his girlfriend, Eleanor Farrant.

They were celebrating their birthdays; Eleanor's was last week and Shawn will be 41 this week.

When the couple returned to their house around 10.40pm, Shawn noticed someone had unscrewed the light bulb and there was damage to the patio door, this "set alarm bells ringing," he said.

He rushed upstairs with his girlfriend and found all her jewellery had been stolen. Much of it was worthless but for the sentimental value, like her Christening jewellery.

It was the second time Eleanor had her jewellery stolen after the house was raided six months ago.

Shawn added: "They took everything out of her drawers and cleared out what was left of her jewellery.

"Her parents bought her a necklace to replace the one stolen last time – but that was gone."

After noticing an iPad, Toshiba laptop and some used aftershave had also gone missing, Shawn was horrified to see his medals had been taken as well.

"Ellie and I react in different ways – she was more vocal. She was really upset and angry when she found my medals had been taken."

"I react differently but it's the same emotions. It was more anger than anything."

Suffolk police have appealed for anyone who witnessed the burglary, which took place between 7.15pm and 10.40pm Saturday April 20, to get in touch with them on 101.

Vaccination campaign to target measles

CHILDREN and teenagers are to be vaccinated against measles.

GP surgeries and schools will be used to target young people who have not had either one or two doses of the measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) vaccine.

The drive was launched after Public Health England (PHE) confirmed there were 14 measles cases in Cambridgeshire between January and April, compared to 13 during all of 2012.

There have been six measles cases in Suffolk so far this year, compared to four during all of 2012. There have been two cases in Essex in 2013 to date.

PHE blamed the spike on low take-up of the MMR vaccine during the late 1990s and early 2000s when concern about the discredited link between autism and the vaccine was widespread. This means many 10 to 16 year olds are now unprotected.

Dr Gina Radford, PHE's centre director for Anglia and Essex, urged parents of unvaccinated children – or anyone who is unsure whether their child has had two doses – to contact their GP.

She said: "Measles is a potentially fatal but entirely preventable disease so it is very disappointing that cases have recently increased in Cambridgeshire and Suffolk."

The catch-up programme recommends an approach to specifically target those young people most at risk, particularly the 10 to 16 year old age group.

"We would advise those who have not been vaccinated to seek at least one dose of MMR vaccination which will give them 95 per cent protection against measles. A second dose is then needed to provide almost complete protection."

Mum of two, Melanie Lainge had been a member of Slimming World in 2001/2002 and had lost 1 ½ stone. But it was during pregnancy that the pounds really started to pile on and afterwards she was unable to lose the weight. After years of trying different restrictive diets that she couldn't stick to for more than a month because she was always hungry. So, as a busy mum and knowing that she'd be welcome back to the group, she joined Slimming World again in January and it helped her gain control over her eating habits. She had forgotten about how much you could eat – even cake!

We all have big appetites and enjoy satisfying, filling food. Mel said, "I have never gone hungry and there is absolutely no need to, especially with all the free foods you can fill up on".

Mel commented that the best thing about Slimming World for her is being able to cook the same meal for the whole family and not have to make different meals. "We all sit down together to eat around the table and enjoy healthy versions of favourites like spaghetti bolognese, pizza, roasts and even puddings!"

"I had struggled to lose weight by myself but being part of a group is key."

If I can do it, then you can do it.

I'm opening a Slimming World Group on Tuesdays at The Newcroft, Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, CB9 0BW at 9:30am, 5:30pm and 7:30pm. Come and chat to me to find out more, I'll be there to meet you.

Tributes paid to a 'wonderful man'

RAYMOND BROWN

A MOVING tribute has been paid to a "wonderful" husband and father who died while riding his beloved scooter.

The devastated family of Dean Cork, 47, of Gainsborough Road, Haverhill, have spoken of the "loving and caring" Cambridge City Council worker who was killed while riding his "beloved" scooter.

He suffered fatal injuries after the Piaggio T5 scooter he was riding was in collision with a Vauxhall Combo van at 7.10am on Tuesday.

The incident happened at the junction of Skippers Lane and Common Road, West Wrating.

The road was closed until 1.15pm as road crash experts carried out an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the crash which ripped the "thoughtful" man from his family as he drove to work.

The family have been flooded with messages of support since tragedy struck.

On the day of his death, family and friends gathered at his home to pay tribute to Dean and comfort each other, with many describing him as "an amazing man".

Dean, who his family said had a great passion for Vespa scooters, leaves his wife of 25 years Tracey, son Dexter, 20, and daughter Billie, 17.

In a statement, they said: "We have lost a wonderful husband, father, son, brother, cousin and friend very suddenly.

"Dean was a lovely, caring and thoughtful man who left for work in the sunshine on his beloved T5 scooter and did not come back.

"We all miss him and mourn his loss and want to thank all our friends, family and well-wishers for all their messages of love and support."

Police continue to appeal for witnesses to the crash to come forward. The driver of the van, a 59-year-old man from Linton, suffered minor injuries.

Pc John Blood, investigating, said:

TRAGIC: Dean Cork was killed riding the scooter he loved

"I would appeal to anyone who witnessed the collision, or saw either vehicle prior to it, to call police."

The death comes after another motorcyclist was killed when his bike was in a crash with a blue Kia Picanto on the A603, at the junction for Harlton and the Eversdens, at 1.30pm on Thursday last week.

An East of England Air Ambulance spokeswoman said: "Despite the best efforts of all those at the scene, unfortunately nothing could be done to help this patient."

"Our thoughts are with their family and friends at this sad and difficult time."

Anyone with any information should call the roads policing unit on 101.

'They stopped my benefit – I have no money to live on'

NO MONEY: Chrissy Ratcliff says she has had her benefits stopped, but cannot work because of chronic pain

'Please don't close our school pool'

ANGRY parents have started a petition to keep a school swimming pool open after its closure was announced because of rising costs.

The pool at Place Farm Primary Academy was dug by Haverhill residents years ago – with some of the current schoolchildren's grandparents even learning to swim in it.

Although it is only open for the summer months, a number of parents believe the pool is vital for their children to learn to swim.

Emma Kirkby, 29, of Duddery Hill, said her son had learnt to swim in the pool and not enough was being done to keep the pool open.

She added: "My son couldn't swim, he always had to wear armbands, but he had lessons and he's swimming whole lengths of the pool now."

School officials took the decision to close the pool after they took on more students – saying it was no longer fit for purpose and the money would be better spent on books and other learning resources.

Parents are currently asked for a £10 donation every year for each child who uses the pool but Emma said most are willing to pay a lot more so their kids can learn to swim.

She added: "It's only open for a few months but it's very important to the kids."

"There are 300 children at the school and if everyone pays one pound a week, that's £300. "How much does it really cost to keep open?"

Madeleine Vigar, Principal of the school, said the pool had been a wonderful resource but she wanted to create something the whole academy could enjoy – not just the younger children.

She confirmed the pool would be filled in and launched an appeal for the community to get involved in building a new sporting legacy.

She said: "We'd love to hear from the community to get their input on creating a new, sustainable, sports resource."

A HAVERHILL woman says she does not have enough money to buy food after her incapacity benefit was stopped.

Chrissy Ratcliff, 50, was passed as 'fit to work' after a medical and was told she had to try harder to get a job.

She had to move to a new property in Blair Parade, Haverhill after the so-called "bedroom tax" made living in her previous house, which was her family home for 30 years, unaffordable after her children moved out.

And Mrs Ratcliffe says she had no money at all last month to live on after the authorities stopped her benefits and ruled she was not looking hard enough for a job.

She said: "I haven't got any savings – how do they expect me to live?"

"I don't like doing it but I had to borrow money from my dad for food."

Mrs Ratcliffe said she suffers from arthritis in her knees and neck and a condition which gives her chronic pain in her muscles.

She added: "I'd love to go to work – I'm not lazy, I'm not one of those people that goes around sponging."

"I've tried going to work and I can't do it."

In the past, Mrs Ratcliffe worked at Addenbrookes but gave up her job after five-hour shifts left her unable to walk to the bus station to get home.

She received incapacity benefit for a while, but after a medical a few months ago, she was put on employment support allowance.

A second medical passed her off as "fit to work" and she has now been told to go find a job.

Although she has tried to explain her condition during physicals, she said people simply: "shrug their shoulders."

She added: "If you can carry an empty cardboard box then you're fit for work."

"They wrote on my results – she got her tablets out of her bag OK."

The government plans to reduce the welfare budget by £18 billion per year by 2014–15.

This is good news

IT WAS interesting to read the piece about Meadows Car Park.

I live in Mount Road and miss our green space which is now a car park.

I think the use should be only for parking cars.

Last year we had trouble with cars using it as a race course and the car park should now be locked in the evenings.

It is horrible to go from a green area to racecourse but hopefully the problem is solved.

Lets keep on top of it.

History Society:

At the History society meeting on April 16, Mike Petty, a local historian, gave a fascinating talk about a little known poet, JR Withers.

He was also known as the hedgerow poet. James was born in Weston Colville over 100 years ago and there is a brass plaque in the church in his honour. The talk detailed his life, from 'rags to riches.'

His poetry became very popular and several volumes were published on a great variety of subjects. Mike showed some slides and also read some of his poetry.

Cricket:

Linton has a thriving cricket club with three senior teams playing on Saturday afternoons, as well as the mid week team.

The practice sessions will now move outdoors to the four lane artificial nets at the village college.

The sessions will be on Thursday evenings all the way through the season. New members would be very welcome. More information from: linton.village.cc@gmail.com.

Police: Police meetings are held quarterly, regarding the Linton/Fulbourn area.

The last one was at Linton Junior School in March.

The purpose of the meetings is to keep the public informed about local policing, give them a say in what they want and provide answers about how the police have performed. Residents of the area are invited to fill in a form or complete a survey online.

Information from the last survey will be given at the next meeting.

Football:

The Alfred Hughes Memorial Charity Football Match will be held on April 28. Aztecs v Linton Veterans. There will be a post match BBQ, bar and tombola.

Prizes will include a £30 meal voucher for the Dog and Duck and a fresh food hamper. The match will be held on the Recreation Ground in aid of Parkinsons UK.

Kids losing out on free school meals

TOWN Councillors and charity workers spent a day at Castle Manor Academy to encourage eligible parents to take up the offer of Free School Meals last week.

It is estimated there are £5 million of unclaimed Free School Meals each year in Suffolk alone, often because parents do not know they are eligible to claim the meals.

Families who claim the meals would initially save £400 per year in the cost of meals.

Schools also get an extra £600 of funding for each child claiming the meals.

Alison Hunt, student support manager at the school, said the extra income could be vital.

She added: "We have such a variety of activities ranging from breakfast clubs to one-to-one tuition.

"There is no longer a stigma associated with free school meals and it's important that we all work to support families."

Eligibility for the meals relies on families receiving just one associated benefit.

County must not be shortchanged says police boss

LIZZY BUCHAN

SUFFOLK'S top police chief has pledged to fight to make sure Suffolk is not "shortchanged" on police funding.

Speaking at a district panel meeting in Haverhill on Friday, Police and Crime commissioner (PCC) Tim Passmore said he planned to make sure Suffolk had the same resources as the rest of the country.

He said: "Suffolk has been shortchanged for the last 25 years, not only in police funding but in healthcare too."

Mr Passmore said Suffolk had suffered because it was such a rural county, and was often woefully underfunded.

He said: "I have already taken this up with the secretary of state and we must push for this at the next comprehensive spending review."

Speaking after the meeting, Mr Passmore told the News: "If you look at the funding we get from the government from what similar counties have it is ridiculous."

"We have been put in the same group as Norfolk by the government but they don't have Newmarket Racecourse, Felixstowe dock or Sizewell to look after which take some resources."

DETERMINED: Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore

The inaugural district panel meeting was held in Haverhill where Mr Passmore presented his draft Police and Crime plan for the next five years.

When asked why he chose to hold the meeting in Haverhill, he said: "I was appointed to represent Suffolk, not just Bury St Edmunds and Ipswich. It is about the whole county."

Mr Passmore said the force would not be merged with Norfolk or Cambridgeshire while he remained in his job and promised to hold the police to account on the number of officers on the beat.

He said: "I am a Suffolk person born and bred and representing Suffolk is right up my street. We have an opportunity here and I am taking it very seriously."

Mr Passmore also announced the volunteer police cadet training would be brought in across Suffolk, which has provided opportunities for young people in Bury St Edmunds, Ipswich, Lowestoft and Felixstowe.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Thieves break into vans and steal construction tools

FOUR vans were broken into last week, with thieves making away with drills, a power reader and a self-leveling laser.

The incidents all took place overnight from Thursday April 18 to Friday, April 19, with two thefts taking place in Hales Barn Road, one in Arrendene Road and one in Brickfields.

The first offence in Hales Barn Road involved a white Peugeot Expert van which was parked in the street.

The offender smashed the front offside window to gain entry to the cabin and then the rear of the van, stealing a drill.

In the other incident in Hales Barn Road, the offender forced the lock of a white Volkswagen Crafter van to get into the front cabin but was not able to access the rear of the van and so no items were stolen.

In Arrendene Road, a white Vauxhall Vivaro van parked on a driveway had its offside front window smashed and both a drill and self-leveling laser were stolen.

The final incident occurred in Brickfields where a white Vauxhall Vivaro was broken into and a multimeter power reader was stolen.

Anyone with information relating to any of these crimes is asked to contact PC Daniel Aston at Haverhill Police Station on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Fire crews tackle caravan fire

THREE fire trucks were called to an caravan on fire at the side of the A1017 in Sturmer, Haverhill, on Sunday.

The caravan caught fire around 6pm and a 59-year-old man was taken to hospital in an ambulance after suffering the effects of smoke inhalation.

Veterans' pothole gloom

Even the taxi drivers refuse to use the road because it was damaging their cars

NICK KOSTOV

THE road leading up to the ex-serviceman's club in Haverhill is full of huge potholes stopping pensioners from attending functions, members of the club have claimed.

Tracey Davey, who is vice chairman of the club, said the potholes in Quaker's Lane were so big you could lose a small child in them.

She added: "The road is in awful condition, several of our older members have fallen in the potholes and got injured."

Mrs Davey claims the state of the road – which she said is the council's responsibility – is stopping members who use wheelchairs or walking frames from going to functions.

She added: "I can't take my mum there because she's in a wheelchair and we can't get walking frames down there either.

"It's discrimination against people in wheelchairs and it's been going on for years."

Star Cars, a Haverhill taxi company who often take people to and from the club, confirmed their drivers no longer drive up Quaker's Lane, dropping customers in the car park instead.

A spokesperson for the company said: "Our drivers make their own decisions but they decided a month back they would no longer go up that road.

"The potholes were damaging the cars too much and we now ask for customers to be picked up from the car park."

The Haverhill ex-serviceman's club has been running since 1921 and organises bingo nights, line dancing and other functions for its members.

Mrs Davey said it made her feel angry that some of the members were unable to attend because of the state of the road.

She said: "Our members have been through a lot, they've been through war, and we need to look after them better – it's not acceptable."

The council has met with representatives of the club and argues Quaker's Lane is in fact a "by-way," and that due to limited funds, it can do nothing about its condition.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Criminal damage to garages – police appeal for witnesses

THREE garages on Headland Avenue were damaged on Sunday night.

Padlocks were broken but nothing was stolen.

Any witnesses should call Suffolk police on 101.

Swing into spring with a concert at the old independent church

THE long, cold winter is finally over and the Haverhill Choral Society are having a concert to celebrate the long awaited arrival of spring. The choir will sing classics by Leonard Bernstein, Benjamin Britten and Hubert Parry.

The concert will start at 7.30pm on Saturday April 27 at the Old Independent Church on Hamelt Road in Haverhill.

Tickets are £8 on the door and include refreshments.

Smelly bins on Mill Street enclosed in new bin store

THE large bins used by the Drabbert Smock and Gurton & Sons derided as an eyesore by residents for years are no more.

After numerous complaints the bins smelt strongly of alcohol and were a blight on the local landscape, the town council finally stepped in to build bin store, completely enclosed and set back from the pavement.

Attempts had been made to involve the borough council and the county council to see if any regulations were being breached but neither were able to help distressed residents.

A spokesperson for the town council said: "it's not the Coliseum, but it represents a real improvement for residents and pedestrians on Mill Road."

We slimmed down – and now we will help others

TWO women who lost weight to support their children are starting support groups to help others do the same.

Melanie Laing, 39 and Sally Dearing, 50, both recently took the step up to become Slimming World consultants, and will be holding their first sessions next week.

Melanie, of Claydon Road, Castle Camp, will be running a weekly support group at the New Croft in Haverhill.

She said first piled on the pounds

NICK KOSTOV

when she got pregnant with her two children and she had wanted to lose weight for them, to set an example of a healthy lifestyle.

She added: "I thought it wouldn't matter what I ate, I could lose the weight later – I was always hungry and craved chocolate or cake.

"My children are five and 10 and they eat whatever I provide. If I provide fatty, sugary stuff that's what they'll eat."

Melanie had been a member of slimming world a decade ago but having a job and two young children at home meant she no longer took time to go to the support group.

Now she is enthusiastically looking forward to the new challenge of being a consultant: "I've struggled to lose weight on my own but being part of a group is the key – if I can do it, you can do it too."

Sally Dearing, 50, also a mum-of-two, will be starting a Slimming World group in Linton on Wednesday evenings.

She said before joining Slimming World in 2006, family meal times had been "uninspired".

Slimming World members often use the phrase "raising pounds and losing pounds" as giving to charity is important to the group – as our picture shows.

dine out for £10

FEELING hungry? Our ever-popular Dine Out for £10 promotion has returned, in association with our sister paper, the Cambridge News. The offer, which runs until Friday June 7, 2013, gives you the chance to enjoy great value meals out at the host of pubs and restaurants listed below. Whether you fancy a tasty steak, a fabulous fish dish or a vegetarian feast, there will be something for you with our mouth-watering offer.

HOW TO TAKE UP THE OFFER

1 Collect three tokens – of which two MUST be from those being published regularly in the Cambridge News. The third can also be from the News, or taken from this newspaper. Alternatively, visit www.cambridge-news.co.uk/Dine-Out-for-10 or visit the homepage and click on Lifestyle > Food and Drink to print off a bonus token. You'll also find a full guide to the venues taking part, including the times and days of the week when the offer is valid.

2 Phone to book a place at your chosen restaurant, stating that you wish to take advantage of the 'Dine Out for £10' offer. Please note, the venues are running the offer at certain times and days of the week.

3 Present your tokens as you order your food. Three tokens entitle two people to dine for £10 EACH on the special Cambridge News menus – excluding drinks. If more than two people are dining you'll need more tokens: six for 3-4 people, nine for 5-6 people etc.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

Offer is subject to availability. Offer runs until Friday, June 7, 2013. Those failing to present the correct number of tokens will not be entitled to use the offer. Photocopies will not be accepted. Issues concerning food or service should be taken up with the venue concerned.

Inquisitive tiger helps Martyn take zoo's top prize

A WINNER has been selected from the 2012 entries in Linton Zoo's photography competition.

A stunning image of Katinka the Amur Tigress earned Martyn Garvey from Portsmouth a framed image of his photograph, annual sponsorship of the animal of his choice and an annual admission ticket.

Kim Simmons, zoo director, said: "We loved his gorgeous photograph, which really seems to capture her spirit."

The contest was open to photographers who took part in a special photography day, and their submitted images had to be taken at Linton Zoo at some point during 2012.

More than 45 entries were received and judged by Colin Edwards, of Colin Edwards Wildside Photography, and the zoo team.

Kim added: "At Linton Zoo it is our aim to inspire and enthuse people about nature and the creatures we share the world with."

"Through the lens of a camera, photographers are often given the opportunity to take a much closer look at the wonders our world provides."

"It's easy to see from the fantastic images submitted that we had a hard time trying to choose a winner."

For 2013, the photography competition will be open to everyone taking pictures during the year. However, photography days will still take place, allowing visitors to test their ability and improve their skills. For details of the photography days and annual competition, visit www.lintonzoo.com.

Janette lives life to the full – and we don't have to worry

PARENTS: Richard and Joy Winters with Janette

Like all parents, Joy and Richard Winters wanted the best for their daughter Janette, who has special needs. Their hard-fought battle has given her independence and a love of life and dancing, as ALICE RYAN found out JANETTE Winters is the life and soul of any party. She's outgoing, chatty, and never forgets a face. And she also loves dancing: the minute the music starts, she's out in the middle of the dance floor, bopping like there's no tomorrow.

"You can't get her off the dance floor," laughs dad Richard. "She's always the first to get up and the last to sit down. But that's Janette: she's just so full of life."

Though in her mid-50s, Janette, who has special needs, has many of the sensibilities of a child. In lots of ways, her lack of inhibitions is a joy: she smiles constantly, hugs freely, and – as Richard says – dances like nobody's watching. But her unworldliness also has its downsides: Janette can't work, manage money or live alone.

"In lots of ways, she's an innocent," explains Joy, Janette's mother. "If someone came up to her, smiled and said 'Come with me', she'd go. She has no sense of danger.

"But regardless of all that, we wanted her to live as full as life as possible. Some parents who have a child with special needs – and I've seen this first-hand – protect them to the extent they can't function without constant parental support; they wrap them up in cotton wool.

"That's all well and good, but what happens when you're not around to care for your child any more? How are they supposed to cope without you?"

Janette is a tenant at a supported living project run by Huntingdon Mencap. She shares a house with a small group of other adults with special needs – and support workers, who are on site 24/7.

"She got to 35, we weren't getting any younger, and we thought it was perhaps time we found her a home of her own," says Joy, 84. "She went for a weekend, to see how she'd get on, and she settled in straight away; she's been there ever since.

"She has such a sociable life now. She's always going out. One of her favourite things is going swimming: she's a brilliant swimmer. When we used to take her on holiday, even as a small child, she whipped through the water so fast we couldn't keep up.

"If it had been these days – after all this Paralympic success – I think she'd have got seriously into swimming as a youngster. There are so many opportunities out there now. You just have to take them."

Janette is the second of the Winters' three children: she has an older brother, Andrew, and younger brother, Ian. Joy says she can still remember the day Janette was born as if it was yesterday: "I was on the ward, the nurse came round and said 'You should be having your baby by now'... The next thing I knew, out the baby came – just like that, in a whoosh.

"At the time I thought that was good, because I'd had a terrible time with my first one. But as time wore on, I thought 'No, that wasn't so good'. Her head wasn't even fully engaged before she came out and they think she suffered serious shock – and that's most likely the reason she has special needs."

Joy and Richard, who've just celebrated their Diamond Wedding, first noticed something was amiss when Janette was just a few months old. "She was a very good baby, but, having had one already, I felt she wasn't developing as quickly as she should have. She wasn't sitting up, wasn't making any effort to sit up – she just lay there."

Consulting the doctor, Joy was referred to the hospital. Yet nobody confirmed there was a problem: "I just got nothing, really. I felt no-one was listening to me, that I was made out to be an over-anxious mother. But in my heart I knew there was something wrong."

It wasn't until Janette started school that her special needs were formally recognised. "I'd taught her to read a little bit, as far as she could go, but she was a lot slower than the other girls her age. We were recommended a boarding school, specially for children with learning difficulties. Because it was recommended, we felt we had to go down that route."

Sadly, though Janette had been happy at her mainstream primary, she found the transition to boarding school, aged 7, almost intolerable. "She came home once a fortnight. And every fortnight we had to more or less drag her into the car, kicking and screaming. To start with, we thought we ought to persevere; we thought it was because it was the first time she'd ever been away from us.

"But then we discovered she was being locked in her room at night, with four or five other girls. I asked another girl there, who was a bit more ahead, 'Do you like it here?' and she said 'Yes'. Then I asked 'Are you looked after? Are the people nice?' and she said 'Oh yes. The only thing is they lock us in our room at night'. Janette had never been locked in before, and she was going crazy."

Taking Janette out of boarding school, Joy and Richard, who's now 89, hoped she could return to mainstream education – but discovered that door had closed. Instead, Janette was given a place at a day school for children with far more profound learning difficulties; though she went there happily, it was far from ideal for her needs.

In her teens, Janette switched to day sessions at an education centre and a weekly social evening. But the Winters felt her development had plateaued; that her independent living skills weren't being pushed.

And that's where Huntingdon Mencap's residential project came in. Janette is now the project's longest-standing client. "She loved it from the minute she went there: she only comes home for holidays and weekends now," says Joy. "It was a huge step for us as a family, but it was obvious from the word go that this was exactly what Janette wanted and needed."

The Winters, who live in St Neots, praise Sue Roberts, chief executive officer at Huntingdon Mencap, with being a 'brilliant and constant' source of support. When the housing project came under threat last year, in the wake of Government cuts, Joy says it was a 'nightmare'.

"The thought of having to start all over again was awful. It takes time to get to know Janette – one of the support workers said it took about 12 months to learn about her likes and her dislikes; to get to know her properly. We didn't want to end up back at square one."

Thankfully, the supported accommodation scheme was preserved. "It was such a huge relief, I can't tell you," adds Joy.

Joy admits she does sometimes wonder what Janette's life would have been like if she hadn't been born with special needs. "In the beginning I did feel quite bitter. I really took care of myself: I didn't drink, don't smoke, ate healthily, took vitamins – you name it. I'd done everything properly for this baby, so I felt really choked that it all turned out the way it did..."

Caring for Janette has, she admits, been tough at times. "She barely slept for the first six years of her life and, for those six years, I don't think I ever had more than two hours sleep at a stretch. I'd sit in bed listening to her singing and getting all her toys out. It was exhausting."

But Joy also says Janette has shed untold light on the family's life. "She's such a happy person. It makes you feel happier, being around her."

Andrew's wife, Victoria, gave birth to the couple's first grandchild, Gabriella, three years ago, and Joy says Janette adores being an auntie. "She dotes on her. She has lots of photographs of her up in the house. We have lots of family pictures around too; that's what it's all about, isn't it? Life's about family."

Joy says Janette has never been happier. "It's wonderful. Just like any other adult, she has her own home – where she can live her own life."

Haverhill's Leading Independent Garage

20 - 22 Hollands Road | Haverhill

A family tyre and repair business has grown so much that even the owners' teenager children help out at times.

Pete and Jo Streeton took over Premier Tyres in Reeds Lane, Haverhill, five years ago, although Pete had already worked there for 12 years under the previous owner. At first Pete ran the business on his own, but it became so busy that after two years, Jo gave up her job as a prison officer at Stradishall to join him. They have two other self-employed staff members, but their daughters Deziyah, 19, Kayleigh, 17, and son Charley, 14, also pitch in to help.

Jo said: "Pete has always been a tyre fitter and mechanic and when the previous owner decided he wanted out, he offered it to Pete. He was on his own at first, but it just became so difficult for him as it got busier, that I left the prison to join him. It is a bit more challenging and I would like to think it is more organised now."

"I do all the quotes and paperwork. Working together is probably the biggest challenge, but we manage to work through things. Our son is mechanics mad and probably knows as much about what is under the bonnet of a car as his father. He would really like to leave school and work here full-time. The girls know my side of things pretty well and can step in if I need time off."

"Our attitude is that we don't like to see people ripped off. We won't sell them something if they don't really need it. If someone insists on four new tyres when they only need three, it is up to them, but we will be honest with them. Peter has worked at places that are commission based, but he could not do it, it isn't fair. It has just got busier and busier. People come in and say we are well recommended, they like the fact that we are honest with them."

The company sells tyres, exhausts and brakes at its premises in Reeds Lane, Haverhill, as well as doing servicing and general repairs. For quotes call (01440) 714330.

ENCOURAGEMENT: Baroness Scott spoke to students at the Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill

You can influence change, Baroness Scott tells students

A PROMINENT member of the House of Lords and former president of the Liberal Democrats visited a school to encourage students to engage with the political process.

Baroness Scott, of Needham Market, met with sixth form students at the Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill on Friday. She talked for an hour about the work and role of the House of Lords, before hosting a question and answer session with the students.

A spokesperson for Samuel

Ward said: "This was a fantastic opportunity for our students to interact with someone who knows the parliamentary system inside out.

"It provides an inspiration to younger generations to take an interest in politics and influence change in their community."

The visit was arranged through the Lord Speaker's "Peers in Schools" programme, which has been running since 2007 and has so far reached around 50,000 young people across the UK.

Prisoner denies assault after row over a beard

A PRISONER attacked a fellow inmate in a row over a beard, it has been claimed.

Isaf Iqbal, 22, is alleged to have been involved in an assault on a man he said should not have grown a beard because he was not a Muslim.

Iqbal has pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting Arunkumar Vettivel at Highpoint Prison on December 30, 2011, causing him actual bodily harm.

Another serving prisoner, Tyler Matthews, 24, of Ipswich, has pleaded guilty to the same charge.

As Iqbal's trial at Ipswich

NICK KOSTOV

Crown Court began this week, the jury were told that he and Mr Vettivel, 26, who was serving a sentence for conspiracy to defraud, were in adjoining cells at the prison at Stradishall, near Haverhill.

Prosecutor Nicola Devas said that following a confrontation between the two men they had been moved by prison officers to different cells.

Giving evidence, Mr Vettivel told the court that on the morning of the alleged attack he had been in bed in his cell just before 8am when Iqbal and Matthews had walked in and confronted him.

Mr Vettivel claimed that while Iqbal held his legs, Matthews had used a wrist watch as a knuckle duster to inflict cuts on his face and wrists.

Afterwards he required stitches to one wrist and suffered cuts to the other wrist and his forehead.

When arrested and questioned by police, Iqbal, from Ilford, denied any involvement in the attack, the court heard.

The trial continues.

An emotional day for London marathon duo

TWO members of staff from the Samuel Ward Academy were part of an estimated 35,000 people who showed solidarity with the victims of the Boston bombings as they ran the London Marathon last weekend.

James Mason, 30, achievement director at the school and Mandy Nickerson, 48, a teacher, both completed the 26.2 mile course between Blackheath and the Mall in central London.

It was James' first marathon but Mandy has run a number before, this being her sixth.

She felt the terror attacks at the Boston marathon, which left three dead and 170 injured the previous week, made this one a more emotional occasion.

She said: "It was very emotional – there was a feeling that nothing was going to stop us."

"There were a lot of people wearing Boston tops and we were given black ribbons to wear."

"People crossed the line with their right hand across their chest."

But despite the need to show defiance and spirit, James and Mandy stressed that everyone was determined to have fun around the famous course, with crowds packed on the side of the roads from the first mile to the last.

On one of the hottest days of the year so far, firemen hosed down runners and bands played music. A host of celebrities also lined up at the start and Mandy said it all made for a real carnival atmosphere.

She added: "I saw Amy Childs walking so I gave her a bit of advice – I told her to grab her partner's hand and let him drag her along.

"I also beat Cheryl Baker." Mandy ran with her partner who was recovering from injury and the pair clocked a time of 5 hours 42 minutes.

For his first marathon, James ran an impressive 4 hours and 20 minutes, but he said it had been tougher than expected and it was the crowd that got him through.

He said: "I got to 20 miles and I thought to myself 'I'm not going to get round'."

"The crowd really help, especially in the last six miles. They never stop shouting and giving encouragement."

The London Marathon remains the largest annual fundraising event on the planet and James got into the spirit by raising £1,300 for VICTA, a charity supporting blind and partially sighted children.

Although now cancer free, James' sister was left partially sighted after surgery to remove a tumour in her brain.

Mandy raised £130 for MacMillan Cancer Support.

Campaign will aim to tackle fly-tipping

A HARD-HITTING campaign has been launched to stop fly-tipping in Suffolk.

The Suffolk Waste Partnership (SWP) has pledged to tackle the practice which is described as "a serious blight" on the environment by working with landowners and enforcement agencies.

Dumped rubbish cost the taxpayer £265,000 to clear between April 2011 and March 2012 as the SWP were forced to deal with almost 3,000 separate fly tipping incidents.

Clr Peter Stevens, chair of the Suffolk Waste Partnership said: "Fly-tipping is a serious blight on our local environment, a source of pollution and a potential danger to public health and hazard to wildlife."

Clr Stevens added: "We welcome the opportunity to significantly reduce the number of fly-tipping incidents in Suffolk and work in partnership with all those affected by this unpleasant, criminal behaviour."

The campaign aims to improve the prevention, reporting, investigation and clearing of fly-tipped waste while reducing their associated costs.

Derek Holliday, head of environment for the Country Land and Business Association, said: "Recognition and support by central government that something has to be done to tackle the scourge of fly-tipping and its impacts are a real boost for the Suffolk Waste Partnership and will allow them to improve the work already being done."

"The CLA is also pleased that there is a strong focus to work with landowners and farmers to find ways to put an end to the fly-tipping that blights the countryside."

The campaign aims to liaise with landowners to help them reduce fly-tipping on their land and to explore how to remove waste from private land effectively.

The SWP also hoped to streamline the reporting process and increase the number of convictions.

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.
- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.
- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.
- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.
- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address . If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

PEDAL POWER: Last year more than 600 people joined the Big Bike Ride and raised almost £20,000 for local charities

Are you joining the fun on the Big Bike Ride?

CYCLISTS can get back into the saddle as entry for the Cambridge News' Big Bike Ride opens for 2013.

The 2012 ride saw more than 600 people take to their bikes and raise almost £20,000 for local charities, and this year it is hoped that the good will will be repeated for the 2013 beneficiary charities, which are Press Relief – the News' Community Fund – Arthur Rank Hospice Charity and Teenage Cancer Trust.

The Big Bike Ride is sponsored by Thomson, Station Cycles and London Stansted Airport, and this sponsorship allows the ride to stand apart from other charity events and donate every penny of entrance money directly to the three chosen charities.

Station Cycles director Charlie Warboys said: "We are proud to sponsor the 2013 Cambridge News Big Bike Ride, and we can cater for all types of cyclist so come and see us and we can get you geared up for the event."

Participants are encouraged to gather sponsorship for their cycle, which is also supported by the European Fund, Vindis Van Centre, St Ives, Bike Friendly Cities and Cambridge Water.

This year the routes, which are designed by Cambridgeshire County Council, are bronze, 100 furlongs, silver, 100 km, or gold, 100 miles.

Entry for the bronze route is £12.50 per adult, and children under 18 can take part in the bronze ride free of charge when accompanied by a paying adult.

The gold and silver routes cost £25 for adults before May 23 and £30 after.

Children can take part for only £10, but under-16s must be accompanied on the journey by an adult.

the GUIDE

ART APPRECIATION: The Pitmen Painters is being staged at the Cambridge Arts Theatre until Saturday

Miners strike gold

The thought of going to an evening class after a long day at work is enough to make most of us turn to the TV remote. But imagine signing up for an evening of tuition after a day down the mines... it doesn't sound too appealing, does it?

But that's the premise of Lee Hall's The Pitmen Painters – although it's based on a group of miners in 1934 so TV probably wasn't an option for them.

Created by the man behind the all-singing, all-dancing Billy Elliot (you might have heard of it?), and inspired by a book by William Feaver, the play spins around a group of pitmen who are looking to enhance their minds and worlds, so hire a professor to teach an art appreciation class.

Quickly ditching talk for brushes, they begin to paint and suddenly find themselves mixing in the kinds of circles art collectors and artists whir in. And yet they stick with their day jobs.

Described by the Evening Standard as "tragic, funny and illuminating in one fell swoop of energy," it was originally produced by Newcastle's Live Theatre, has nabbed the Evening Standard Award for Best New Play and has had sell-out runs at The National Theatre and on Broadway.

Now it is filling the Cambridge Arts Theatre with poignant musings on class, politics and art, plus ripples of laughter. Prepare to feel like you really should do something with all that spare time you have...

Showstopping!

HIGH kicks, feathers and old-world charm are the lynchpins of Follies, a musical theatre show based on the fickle world of Broadway.

Put on by Cambridge club The Pied Pipers, for the ADC, the play was originally written by stage giant Stephen Sondheim, and has tottered around theatres since 1971.

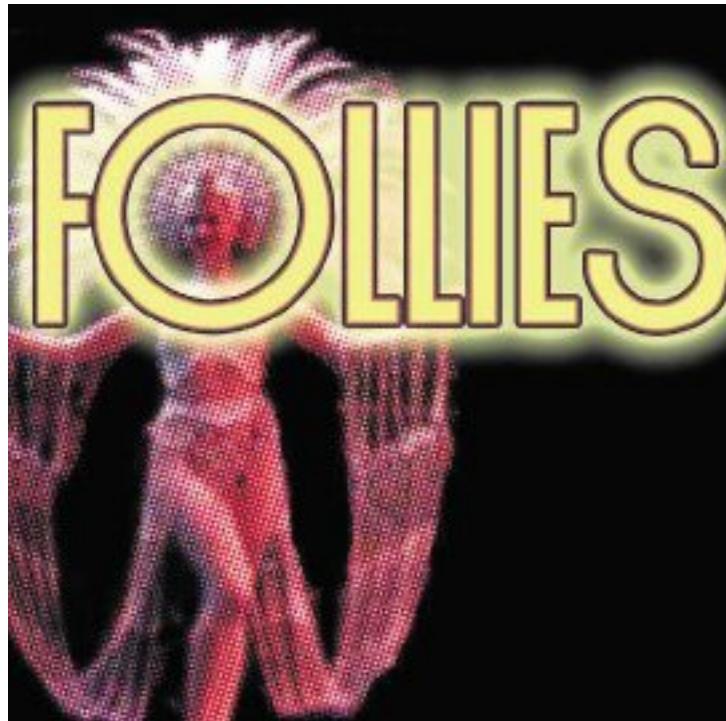

It's currently experiencing a bit of a revival thanks to our obsession with the dazzling 20s and 30s.

Set in a crumbling theatre on the eve of its demolition, two couples – former stars of Weismann's Follies, a glamorous stage troupe that whirled happily for the masses between the two World Wars – reunite.

With flimsy rose-tinted glasses they remember their gilty heydays and loves lost, and forlornly face the lacklustre present as their ghostly younger selves shadow their dance steps.

The routines are what you call 'show-stoppers'; the costumes are skimpy, sassy and rhinestone encrusted and the songs, well, you probably know them already, so why not go and sing-along?

• Follies, The ADC Theatre, until Saturday at 7.45pm. Tickets £10-£12 from (01223) 300085 / www.adctheatre.com

High kicks and feathers: The Pied Pipers is staging Follies at the ADC Theatre until Saturday.

Greener on the other side?

GARDENERS who didn't want to venture out in the freezing weather at the beginning of the month may now be looking at a moss-ridden, lumpy lawn with scatterings of bald patches, a world away from the velvet carpet of grass they desire.

But there's still time to give your lawn a boost, even if it might look a bit forlorn now, or consider re-seeding or turfing if you think it's beyond hope.

If you have loads of moss, it's worthwhile applying a moss killer before you scarify, and wait a few days before raking it up.

Improve badly draining soil by aerating the lawn, driving a garden fork into the ground all over the lawn when it is moist, making holes to a depth of 10-15cm (4-6in). I once bought a pair of lawn-aerating shoes, but they kept falling off so I went back to the old faithful fork.

Others use hollow-tine lawn aerators which remove plugs of soil from the ground, but they are hard work and aren't very good on stony soils or heavy, dry soils.

The holes you make allow air and water to get into the grass roots and should then be filled with a mixture of sharp sand and organic soil conditioner to stop the holes from closing up.

If the soil is heavy and air is forced out due to excessive rain, spread a large bucketful of sharp sand per square metre over the surface, working it into the holes with the back of a rake.

Feed the grass with lawn fertiliser available at most garden centres. This can be done by hand, applying approximately two grams per square metre, and water it in.

All lawns need good drainage and oxygenation, so scarify it with a springtine rake to remove thatch – dead grass that mats beneath growing grass – and moss. For larger lawns, it's worth renting a petrol-driven lawn scarifier to do the same job.

Some lawn dressings incorporate a slow-release fertiliser but if this isn't the case, add a little amount of general lawn fertiliser (not containing weed or moss killer) before applying it. Make sure you brush it evenly over the area or it will become patchy when the fertiliser kicks in.

PERFECT LAWN: There's still time to get your grass into shape for the summer

A few weeks later, if your lawn is still patchy, oversow it lightly with a quality lawn seed.

Once it's ready to cut, make your first few cuts, keeping the blades set quite high. If your grass is already long, give it a few cuts over a number of weeks, lowering the blades a little at a time, so that you cut the grass length down gradually.

By summer, you should be mowing weekly, stepping up to twice a week when necessary, but don't mow the grass shorter than 2.5cm (1in) high and keep on top of weeds in the lawn. Annual weeds which emerge in any bare patches will be removed by mowing.

Of course, in the unlikely event that we have a sustained period of warmth in the summer, go easy on the mowing and don't worry about letting the grass go brown because it will recover.

When you mow during drought, leave the cuttings on the lawn to stop the roots drying out and help keep in the moisture.

Your Homesnow Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Homesnow team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls.

We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

2

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- Employer
- Inland revenue
- Local council
- Banks or Building Societies
- Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- Gas, Electricity and water boards
- Insurance companies
- Land / mobile phones
- Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- DVLA
- Veterinary surgery
- TV Licensing

3 1 WEEK TO GO:

- Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.

- Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.
- Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.

- Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.

- Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.

- Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.
- Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- Finish packing toiletries box.
- Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- Turn off electric appliances.
- Disconnect cooker.
- Turn off boiler / central heating.
- Turn off water.
- Read gas meter.
- Read electricity meter.
- Secure all windows.
- Lock all doors.
- Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- Open up & have a look around the new house.
- Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- Check the van after all is unloaded.
- Make the beds up for the evening.
- Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Cascada launched

THE Imperial War Museum at Duxford was the setting for the launch of the Vauxhall Cascada earlier this month, writes Chris Lilly.

One of the biggest points in the Cascada's favour is the fact that it remains a good looking car whether you have the roof up or down. As aesthetics are an essential consideration for a cabriolet, the Cascada is very obviously a car that has been designed from the outset as a convertible and isn't merely a hatchback that has lost a fight with a hacksaw. It picks out the best points of the Astra, Insignia and Astra GTC and blends them together in a civilised manner.

THE VAUXHALL CASCADA: Now on sale in the city

This genteel impression is then carried on into the Vauxhall's performance. The Cascada offers a pleasant driving experience and could be used every day though I'm sure that most will be spared the commute into work and get brought out on trips that are a little more fun.

When you do go for a spin, the drop-top Vauxhall proves to be surprisingly taut and shake-free. Pushing along the twisting B-roads

Cambridge, the Cascada took all of the bumps and pot holes in its stride with no complaint from the steering.

In fact, if buying a Cascada, I would pick a diesel. The lower revs suit the driving style better and, since none of the engines available will offer blistering performance, you might as well have effortless acceleration and a high number of miles per gallon – you will get 39mpg from the least frugal unit.

With the UK's somewhat ironic love affair with convertibles, you are sure to see quite a few Vauxhall Cascadas on the roads this summer.

RIDEOUT: Organised by Cambridge Scooter Club

Sunday rideout is scooter fan thrill

CAMBRIDGE Scooter Club's St George's Day rideout on Sunday proved to be a huge success with hundreds of scooters taking part.

Riders came from all over the region to join in the event, which went round and then through the city on a gloriously sunny afternoon.

For full details see drive in the Cambridge News on Friday or look on the website at www.cambridge-news.co.uk/motors.

Your Homesnow Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital.

The Homesnow team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls.

We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

2

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- Employer
- Inland revenue
- Local council
- Banks or Building Societies
- Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- Gas, Electricity and water boards
- Insurance companies
- Land / mobile phones
- Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- DVLA
- Veterinary surgery
- TV Licensing

3 1 WEEK TO GO:

- Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

5 ON MOVING DAY: AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- Finish packing toiletries box.
- Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- Turn off electric appliances.
- Disconnect cooker.
- Turn off boiler / central heating.
- Turn off water.
- Read gas meter.
- Read electricity meter.
- Secure all windows.
- Lock all doors.
- Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- Open up & have a look around the new house.
- Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- Check the van after all is unloaded.
- Make the beds up for the evening.
- Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Frank rises to Challenge

FRANK Robertson was crowned champion in the IFF Challenge Final at Haverhill Golf Club.

In a stableford event contested between all the division winners throughout 2012/13, Robertson scored 37 points to trim his handicap by one and take the plaudits. Peter McLennan was second with 35 and Kelvin Ellam third with 34.

Doreen Darbey was first in the Ladies Midweek Stableford with 33 points, in blustery conditions. Mary Sail was second with 30 and Pat Wellstead third with 27 on countback.

Percy is a shooting star

JAMES Percy has been on a scoring spree for Wickham Brook in Cambridge & District Colts League, under-17A.

He got the only goal of the game as they won 1-0 over Warboys, tucking home a rebound after David Crowley's shot had been parried.

That followed a 4-1 midweek victory over Soham Town, when Percy hit his second hat-trick in three days.

He put his side in front with a dipping volley from the edge of the box, but Soham levelled soon after.

Brook went back in front just before half time when Percy took a pass from Harry Willett and drilled a shot into the bottom corner.

Wickham Brook dominated the second period, with Tom Pinker pulling the strings, and Percy completed his hat-trick from the penalty spot after he was brought down.

Sam Langham got the last goal after good work down the right by Ross Whiting.

Euan McGinley and Mackenzie Brown found the net for Haverhill Rovers but could not prevent them losing 4-2 to Haslingfield in Division 13C.

&gt; Baseball

Blackjacks beaten in a debut thriller

HAVERHILL Blackjacks opened their debut baseball season in dramatic style with a defeat away at Waltham Abbey to the Essex Archers.

The game got off to a flying start with the Blackjacks netting four runs in the top of the first inning off the pitching of Sprent; this was made better by Opal keeping the Archers down to the one run in the bottom of the first.

The Archers turned this setback round by gaining four runs in the first five at bats to take a lead of 5-4. The game continued to swing as Blackjacks came out on top in the third by grabbing three runs, and the Archers took the advantage in the fourth with Opal giving up four runs due to some poor fielding.

The fifth inning also went the way of the Archers and they added another two runs to leave them in control at 11-8.

The next two innings saw only one run, for the Archers, but the Blackjacks came storming back in the eighth, taking advantage of wayward pitching and erratic fielding by Archers to score six runs and move into the lead at 14-12.

The Archers levelled in their reply and, after Blackjacks had failed to get out of the blocks in the ninth, with Summers pitching the game away from Haverhill, the Archers got the winning run they needed to win it 15-14.

However, there were plenty of positives for coach Steven Esdale to take away from the game.

Haverhill too strong for Cottenham

A STRONG performance from a Haverhill side made up of under-11 and under-12 players overcame Cottenham 61-21.

Haverhill took control early on when Brook Broomfield scored in the first minute, Dean Cleary converting for a 7-0 lead.

Cottenham replied with two converted tries but Haverhill got back into gear and Harry Mumford scored their second try which Cleary again converted.

Broomfield added his second and Adam Loveridge dotted down with Cleary again adding the extras.

Cottenham came back with a converted try in the second half but Joe Milner scored for Haverhill and Cleary converted.

Further tries from George North, Mumford, Loveridge and Milner, all converted by Cleary, completed a deserved win.

Captain Youngs left fuming by 'poor' batting display

DAN Poole's knock was unable to prevent Haverhill losing by 72 runs in their opening clash of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One at Frinton.

The hosts recovered from 122 for 7 to rack up 200 for 7, with two wickets apiece for Anthony Phillips and Nigel Brunning.

Adam Dellar and James Smith progressed comfortably to 22 without loss in the first five overs of Haverhill's reply, but then wickets fell in a cascade to leave them 53 for 7.

Brunning (26) added 33 with Poole, but the visitors were soon 89 for 9, and a last-wicket partnership of 39 between Poole and Joe Woodley merely delayed the inevitable.

Poole was last man out for 43 as Haverhill were dismissed for 128 and had to settle for five points.

Captain Simon Youngs said: "Our batting was extremely poor and our better players didn't perform, it's as simple as that."

"Frinton's bowling attack was not great, so I thought we would go close, but only Dan and Nigel showed any application – but by then it was too late."

Haverhill face Mildenhall on Saturday, and their opponents are likely to be boosted by the presence of Essex duo Tom Westley and Tymal Mills.

Youngs added: "It's going to be tough. I don't agree that they should be able to play as they are signed to county sides, but there is no rule, so we have to get on with it."

Rovers produce a five-star display

THURLOW NUNN LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

NEIL Cogger struck after 38 seconds and Haverhill never looked back as they recorded a fine 5-1 victory at fifth-placed Walsham-le-Willows.

Rovers increased their lead through Marc Abbott and striker Dan Cornwell then added a couple before half time to take the game away from the hosts.

A fifth arrived in the 70th minute courtesy of a Marcus Hunt header, before the home side claimed a late consolation.

"Everything came together," said a delighted manager Kieron Hammatt.

"We'd been having good spells and been doing things right, so it had been frustrating as things hadn't been clicking together.

"So it was nice to see things done consistently well and we scored five goals. It was that simple.

"It's a great testimony to the lads as they've worked hard and they got their rewards.

"We didn't go there to nick a point or shut up shop. We went there for the three points.

"The warm-up was good, the start to the match was good and everything else fell into place. There are good signs for next season."

Haverhill entertain Kirkley & Pakefield on Saturday before travelling to Wivenhoe on Tuesday.

"There's a good nucleus of lads and we're excited about next season," added Hammatt.
